CITY AND COUNTY.

Col. Phillips is in Washington, D. C.

Lumber has been sold for several new buildings within a week.

Monday morning saved us from a drought of several hours duration.

The wet season seems to have been the cause of considerable sickness in Salina.

John Larson, the well known Asa-sia druggist, was in the city over Sunday.

And now the county attorney takes a hand in the prosecution of illicit liquor sellers.

Hackman Hale is out with his old hack completely overhauled, and it is "just as good as new."

Wm. Geis is temporarily in the fruit business, as his trees in Fruitland addition are loaded.

The Peckish band concert took place on Friday evening and was, as usual, a fine musical treat.

The Union Veteran Legion gave a very enjoyable social at Grand Army hall last Thursday evening.

E. W. Pike was on the streets Tuesday for the first time since the accident in Oakdale park two weeks ago.

A local paper speaks of "Rev. Gal-loway, formerly pastor of the Baptist church here." Who is Rev. Galloway?

The police have had several rain-bow chases by moonlight of late, but all that has come of it is abundant exercise.

The W. C. T. U. ladies served refreshments and held a reception at the Red Men's building on Friday evening.

Several incipient blazes were suppressed within the week, before it became necessary to call out the department.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Price rejoice in the advent of a daughter. Be-careful about congratulating the wrong man.

Jones & Kerns, the contractors have received a number of carloads of building stone lately. This looks like business.

Standing item, in daily papers for the last two weeks—work will begin in earnest on the electric railway to-morrow morning.

The bonds for New Cambria's new school house have been "placed." A two story structure of four school rooms will be built.

Work on the opera house is pro-gressing rapidly, and it will not be long until the public will be invited to inspect the improvements.

Dr. Harvey is imbued with a de-sire to become a farmer when he sees the crops that are growing and have been harvested this year.

Paul Jordan, formerly a real estate dealer in Beloit was up from Salina Sunday, where he is now situated in the same business—Beloit Courier.

J. B. Johns is home on a visit. He expects to put in this fall in Ohio. He says he wants to watch closely the workings of the campaign in that state.

It may be too hot for the min-ister to hold forth, but the devil con-tinues in business at the old stand and doesn't complain about hay fever—Ev.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Randall, of Cawker City, spent Sunday in the city, the guests of the family of W. W. Watson. Mrs. Randall and Mrs. Watson are sisters.

He was only a tramp, but he re-ceived eight people from the burning wreck of railroad cars which consti-tuted what is now known as the "Havens horror." He also fur-nished the press a graphic report of the frightful occurrence—Bellefontaine, (O.) Examiner.

Editor Bristow got back from St. Paul on Sunday evening, with the air of a country congressman just returned from his first session in Washington.

R. W. Rindard, formerly agent for the M. & K. T. in this city and later agent for the M. & K. T. at Salina, now in the employ of the M. & K. T. at McAllister, I. T.—Junction City Republican.

Mr. Ludes, the east side grocer-man, is suffering seriously from what is pronounced by some to be a can-cer, although hopes are entertained by his friends that it is not that dreaded disease.

Dr. Hodge, Register of the Salina Land Office has received a thirty days leave of absence, and has gone to Ohio, where he will visit friends for several weeks.

Charles Cochran was arrested Monday for stealing a saddle near Hoxie. The saddle was secured by Sheriff Quincy, and word sent to the parties interested at Hoxie.

The mutual admiration society that Johnson tells us exists between the JOURNAL and the Herald is something like the one that exists between the Sun and the Union.

We felt sorry when Brother Baxter left the editorial chair of the Salina JOURNAL but feel glad to form the acquaintance of Brother C. B. Kirtland. He is giving his patrons a clean, live, spicy paper and merits their appreciation and support.—Kansanville Kansan.

Anton Fredrickson is reading law in the office of Jos. Moore. With his present insight into legal procedure, and under the careful tutelage of Mr. Moore, we predict for him a bright future.

Tuesday the sale of the entire Pa-cific addition, formerly owned by Mr. Harsh, was consummated, whereby Mr. Baum, of the electric railway company, becomes the owner $300,000. The purchase price of the addition was $15,000.

The Trans-Missouri passenger association has finally agreed to the harvest excursion rates, and fixed the dates of the excursion August 25th, and September 15th and 20th, tickets good for thirty days.

A number of cases have been filed in the District court of this county against the Kansas Pacific Railway Company. For the benefit of those who have come to Kansas to live in the last ten years we will say that the Kansas Pacific means the Union Pacific.

Attorney Chapman is figuring on the plans for a new residence on his farm adjoining the city on the north. He hopes to get through for $2000 or $2500, but if the contractor's bill runs up, and grows, and swells strong as a lion's paw, he will do well to get off with double.

Noble Prentiss stopped at the Pa-cific over night last Saturday. He is the same genial wit, bright as a dol-lar, and one always feels better for having met him. We call special attention to his letter in this week's JOURNAL on "Epworth and Lincoln-shire." We hope to give our readers a weekly letter from his pen.

The Presbyterian ladies give a lawn social this evening at the resi-dence of W. J. Hughes, North Ninth street. The lawn will be specially lighted for the occasion by electric-ity. Mr. Cook taking advantage of this opportunity for testing a lamp made purposely for lighting lawns.

The periodical epidemic of fast women has struck town and the po-lice are kept busy day and night running them out. Why don't they get after the animals of the other sex who bring them here and who main-tain them? There is nothing like getting at the root of an evil like that.

Dr. Tobey writes an interesting letter to Col. Padgett's paper which has the Doctor's well known ring about it. Dr. Tobey is a physician by profession, a Baptist in religion, a hater of all manner of sham, for truth's sake, and a Democrat be-cause he can't help it. We hope to see him back in the fall improved in health and spirits.

Your Uncle George White blossomed out in a new spring suit, straw hat, and shiny boots, Tuesday. As Uncle George is not included in the list of summer widowers, people are at a loss to know what is the cause of this sudden change in his habits.

J. W. Divilbiss, well known in Sa-lina, and a graduate from the Jour-nal office, is now publishing the Vi-sion at Montano, Washington. A copy of the paper received at this office shows great care in the "make-up," and carries with it a look of prosperity which we are glad to see. "Jimmie" deserves to prosper.

Parties who wish to educate their boys surrounded by pure and elevat-ing influences will do well to read the card, published in another col-umn, of St. John's Military school, at Salina, Kas. Rev. Chittenden, the rector, called at this office, and bears the impress of a highly cultured gen-tleman, safe to intrust with the cus-tody of a wide awake school for boys.—Atchison Champion.

It is easy to pick out a hen-pecked husband these days. It has been the prevailing custom this spring to consign mustaches and whiskers to the razor. Now, if you would know those under the dominion of petti-coat government at home, just note those who immediately start the hirsute adornment growing.

The public spirited men of Salina are not all dead yet. According to the Sun A. M. Claflin offers to be one of 100 men who will raise Salina County's apportionment, $1128 for the Kansas World's Fair exhibit. In other words Mr. Claflin offers to give $1128 to the enterprise if ninety-nine other men will do the same.

Ed. Smith, Jr., of Macon, Mo., was in Salina a few days the guest of his uncle Phil. Lockwood, last week. He is on his return from Portland, Oregon, where he was spending his vacation. His father is traveling for Sherman Bros., of Chicago, while young Ed. is Senior Cap-tain in the Military Academy at Macon.

The United States Attorney General has approved the title of the Shaffer corner for the public build-ing, and it has been accepted by the United States Treasury Department, and the lots ordered paid for. Uncle Sam may move a little slow, but all will admit that he is reasonably sure. In all probability the founda-tion will be put in this fall.

Emma, the fourteen months old daughter of Guy A. Adams, foreman of the Republican composing rooms, died at 11 o'clock, Sunday morning. The child was buried on Tuesday, at Lincoln, the former home of Mrs. Adams. Mr. and Mrs. Adams have lived here only a few weeks, they having moved here from Tecumseh, where Mr. Adams conducted the Tecumseh Herald.

The Union Y. P. S. C. E. held a meeting at the Christian Church Sunday evening. The following program was observed: Devotional exercises conducted by Mr. Harlan; short address, Christian Endeavorers as soul winners, J. M. Vawter; Re-view of the Golden Rule for June, Miss Cora Miller; Review of the Golden Rule for July, Miss Anna Manderbach; Vocal Solo, Miss Eleanor Spivey; Paper, Miss Lizzie Doyle.

Some of the councilmen are getting a little restless over the electric rail-way matter, and a committee was appointed to look into it, as will be seen by our report of the council proceedings. While there is no un-friendliness toward the company on the part of the council, yet there has been considerable delay in the matter that has been unaccounted for, and this action may be con-sidered as representative of the sen-timent of the city in general.

The graduating exercises of the county schools take place this evening in St. John's Lutheran church. The graduates are those who have completed the common school course, and have passed a successful examination at the hands of the county superintendent. The pro-gram will consist of music, essays and orations by the graduates fol-lowed by the presentation of diplo-mas by Sup't. Hillman. A small fee of ten cents will be charged at the door.

Scott Higibotham went to Salina to spend Sunday with old friend J. B. Harrison, of Salina, is down to spend a few days at home. * * * Miss Grace Laird went to Salina Wednesday to visit her father, who is now an instructor in music teacher in Omaha, passed through the city today enroute to her home in Salina. * * * Mrs. Ed. Andrews, of Salina, has been visiting her sisters and her mother, Mrs. Mary Berkhart, and returned home today.—Manhattan Republic.

J. R. Knox is threshing his wheat with the machine standing so as to throw the straw into the Blue River. The boys have lots of fun setting fire to the bunches floating on the water, as they pass by this city.—Manhattan Republic.

Up here in Salina County the farmers are all saving their straw and stacking it carefully to sell to our new paper-mill, soon to be built. Instead of burning or "drown-ing" our straw we hope to sell it to you later on in the shape of paper.

There is at last a prospect in sight for the breaks in the long side walk on North Santa Fe to the Military school being filled up. Mr. Garver has discovered that Santa Fe avenue has no existence as far as the old Lincoln branch track is concerned. Steps were taken at Monday evening's council meeting to condemn 100 feet wide across this ground, after which Santa Fe avenue will have no break from college to college. It is to be hoped that the walk will be built and the dangerous, unsightly holes filled up, so that the city's best street will not be burdened with such eyesores.

Mr. Fred Hepper, of Gypsum City, and Miss Josephine Townsend, of Mentor, were united in marriage at the probate court office, by Rev. Patton, last Saturday forenoon. The bride is a veritable daisy, being a native of this state. She looked charming in her white bridal attire, and the groom—well no matter how a groom looks—the bride is in the center of attraction, and we can only say he looked manly and proud of his wife. The young people will be living in the city together at the farm of Mr. Hepper near Gypsum City, and they certainly have the good wishes of the JOURNAL for long life and prosper-ity.

A card from the Lockwood Bros., who are in the south superintending the sale of their book, "History of the Colored Race," tells us that the first 1,000 is gone, and that they are waiting to deliver the next edition which we expect to have ready for them by the first of August.

A JUST RICE.

The Wholesale Grocery Men of Kansas After the Railroad.

There has been some very hard figuring going on for some time past by Mr. Lee, of this city, to find out if possible on just what grounds the railroad charged him $1 cents per cwt. from New York to the Missouri river, and 20 cents from there to Salina, or 27 cents from New Orleans to the river and 20 cents here. At last what is known as the Interior Wholesale Grocery association, H. D. Lee, president, and J. S. George, of Hutchinson, secretary, have filed their complaint with the railroad commissioners against the five systems of railways doing business in this state, for unjust discrimination in railroad freight rates. The complaint alleges that the rates for sugar in carloads from Atchinson, Leavenworth, Fort Scott, Cherryvale and other points to interior jobbing points, such as Wichita, Arkansas City, Hutchinson and Salina, are unreasonable and unjust, being greater than they are from such initial point to other jobbing centers on the eastern border; that this discrimination is the result of the combined action of the railroads; that there was a recent advance of 10 cents per cwt. on the through rate of which is apportioned to Kansas territory; that the seventy-five miles eastern limit established by the "Wichita decision" has served its purpose and should now be abolished; that the classification of freight is unjust, and a lower one should be made to conform to the classification in other territories; that no restrictions are placed upon competitors on the Missouri river, thereby making it an unjust discrimination by applying such restrictions to Kansas interior points.

An early hearing is asked. The complaint is signed by the Hutchin-son Wholesale Grocery Company, H. D. Lee, Mercantile Company, the Leh-man-Higginson Grocery Company, the Wichita Wholesale Grocery Company and Ranney, Alton & Co.

The railroad companies will be immediately furnished with copies of the complaint, and as soon as answers are made the date of hear-ing will be fixed.

A CENTRAL KANSAS FAIR.

Why Not Have a Fair that is Fair in Salina under the Auspices of Central Kansas.

Salina is the most prominent and central city in this part of Kansas beyond any question. We have wholesale houses which depend upon central and western Kansas for their trade, and the amount of business done by them in this section shows our faith is not in vain. We have mills that depend largely upon central Kansas farmers outside the immediate vicinity of Salina for wheat. We have many things in common with the people of the whole of this section of Kansas outside of Salina county. We can take care of the crowd in the dozen or so hotels, and we can get the crowd here to take care of a number of our incomparable railroad facilities.

Providence has smiled kindly on our territory this year, now why not, in consideration of all these things, hold a central Kansas fair right here in Salina. We have a place in which the first exhibition could be held, and if that proves too small for such an enterprise we have only to cross the river where there is a site for a fairground unapproach-ably anywhere in Kansas for future exhibitions.

Now we want our farmers and business men to think over this proposition, and consider it in all its phases, as we shall, in all probability, be around to ask your opinion concern-ing it, before another week. Our friends in Central and Western Kansas are invited to consider this project and give us your opinion concerning it.

Miss Corinne Mills Dead.

At half past twelve Friday morning Miss Corinne Mills passed away at the residence of her sister, Mrs. J. B. Shellabarger, at Eighth and Walnut streets. Miss Mills was in her twenty-second year and was loved and esteemed by a large circle of friends. Her father, Mr. Joseph Mills, of Decatur, Ill., and her sister, Mrs. J. B. Shellabarger, were with her when she died and she passed peacefully away. Miss Mills was afflicted with that dread disease—consumption, from which the only relief is in death. About a year ago she left here in the hope that a change of climate would be beneficial to her health. Not finding the relief she hoped for, she returned to the home of her sister, where she had lived for many years. Although the best of care was bestowed upon her and the best medical skill was employed, all was of no avail. The remains were taken to Decatur, Ill., on Saturday morning for burial, which took place at sunset, Sunday evening. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. E. P. Chittenden, who read the Episcopal burial service, and made a few appropriate remarks relative to the dead.

On Tuesday the gentlemen of Cydon Lodge K. of P., and their families held a very enjoyable social at the residence of C. A. Hunt, on Fourth street. The prime ob-ject was the organization of Pythias. The new lodge starts out with about thirty, and the following officers were elected: Mrs. M. L. Bishop, P. C.; Mrs. E. A. Hunt, M. E. C.; Mrs. Shaffer, E. S.; Mrs. Lay, E. J.; Mrs. Manderbach, Manager; Mrs. Loomis M. of C. and C.; Mrs. Heller, M. of F.; Mrs. Goering, P. of T.; Miss Barneck, G. of O. T.

John Grant, journalist, became a vic-tim to the fierce displeasure of the law last Monday, after several post-ponements, and was fined $75 and costs, amounting, all told, to $87.45, for taking the law in his hands and stepping on it. His stock of liquors, valued at $75, was confiscated and sold, while he was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary for the effects of the arrest than she. The fine and costs were paid, and we understand the victim has been granted himself a permanent leave of ab-sence.

A card from the Lockwood Bros., who are in the south superintending the sale of their book, "History of the Colored Race," tells us that the first 1,000 is gone, and that they are waiting to deliver the next edition which we expect to have ready for them by the first of August.

THE CITY LEGISLATURE.

Regular Monthly Meeting of the City Council on Monday Evening.

The council got together Monday evening, and so did all the appointive officers and persons who had claims against the city, as this was the regular meeting, and bills were allowed. At roll call Bristol, Lewis and Godfrey were absent, but a few moments later Councilman Godfrey rushed in, pulled off his hat, put on his spectacles, and also the air of a man desperately anxious to get rid of a large load of business cares.

The regular monthly bills and a few extras were put before the council, with a favorable report. Chair-man Cravens then laid before the council the bill of Daddy Hudson and City Engineer Weaver. Recently Daddy's salary was cut down be-cause of the many perquisites attach-ed. Every time Daddy cleans house, conducts the obsequies of an un-fortunate canine, dungs out the black hole, misnamed the city jail, or in fact when he does any work whatever a special bill for services is rendered. To the chairman this has grown monotonous, and last Monday night he intimated that this was the last bill he would vote on blind. Hereafter all of Daddy's bills would have to be rendered according to an established schedule of fees to be fixed by a committee appointed expressly for the purpose. City Engineer Weaver's bill for surveying and establishing grade, $46, was allowed.

A petition for a sidewalk along the south side of Park street, from Tenth to Thirteenth, failed to impress the sidewalk committee favorably, and so the petitioners will hereafter wade the mud when it rains.

Another petition for a walk on the east side of Fifth, from Mulberry to South was ordered built, after some discussion for and against the propo-sition.

The condition of the Iron avenue bridge was brought up, (this is one of the regular things for the council to consider at every meeting) but as usual, nothing was done.

The U. P. sidewalk on North Santa Fe was brought up by a mem-ber, and City Attorney Garver in-formed the council that Santa Fe avenue had never been opened across the old abandoned Lincoln branch tracks, and that until it was done the company could not be compelled to build a sidewalk across those tracks. A petition to open Park street north across the U. P. tracks was presented in order to afford the farmers living out in that direction easier access to the city. The city attorney prepared and presented a resolution condemning the property for both streets, Front street 80 feet wide, and Santa Fe avenue 100 feet wide. The resolution was adopted and John Daum, M. J. Wellslager and D. H. Beard were appointed as a condemnation jury.

Some of the attorneys presented an- other resolution, which provided that unless work commenced on the electric railway before August 1st, the company should forfeit their franchise. This brought out a storm of discussion pro and con, and finally the matter was referred to a special committee composed of Wilson, Neff and Benfield, who were to ascertain the reasons for delay before definite action was taken in the matter.

Councilman Truman, from the Fire Department committee, reported some of the apparatus in bad shape, and the committee was in-structed to look into the matter, with full power to take action.

After all hands except the Mayor had refreshed themselves with a drink of water from the new plug in the back room, Councilman God-frey's committee, that of public health and sanitary measures, was given a chance to exercise. Mr. Godfrey is devoting much time to his duties on this committee, and deserves credit. He reported sev-eral places in bad condition, and the abatement of several nuisances. The City Attorney had prepared and presented an iron clad sanitary ordinance which should have been passed, but which went by the board on the specious plea that the property owners could not afford the expense of sewer connection.

Whether it is more economical to have the buildings on Santa Fe from Ash to Walnut streets connected with the sewer, or to have several contagion breeding cesspools lying at intervals over the territory named remains to be seen.

The report of the city treasurer showed that there remained in the treasury $3328.68 in the treasury dis-tributed as follows: General fund, $738.38; interest fund, $1768.77; sinking fund, $818.65; John Boyd coal fund, $40.

The report of the police judge was filed. It shows that sixteen cases came before that august tribunal during the month, of these two were dismissed, one appealed, one was committed, and twelve paid fines, making fifteen convictions in all. Fines to the amount of $116 were col-lected, and costs paid amounted to $66.

The monthly appropriation bill, amounting to $1165.75 was taken up and passed, and the council ad-journed.

Dogs Attack a Boy.

On Saturday evening little Roy Dedman was attacked by A. A. Wise's two hunting dogs, as he past along Fifth street in the rear of Mr. Wise's residence. Small boys are in the habit of teasing these dogs, which are kept tied in Mr. Wise's yard, by throwing sticks and stones at them, and otherwise worrying them and working them up into a frenzy. It so happened that as Roy and his brother and sister came along, the dogs broke their ropes and ran for the boy, one of them bit-ing him in the left shoulder and the other tearing his right hip and thigh, before assistance came. He was taken home and Dr. Harvey, who dressed the wounds thinks no serious results will follow. Roy was up and around Monday, and seems to be getting along nicely. Mr. Dedman has the two dogs out at his slaughter house, where if they show any signs of becoming rabid, they will be sum-marily dispatched. Mr. Wise values one of the dogs very highly, but the other has been worried so much by the boys about town as to become worthless.

What we have to say.

REPORTER.

The Paper Mill.

While the people here have almost lost sight of the matter, the interest-ed parties have by no means been asleep, but on the contrary have been hard at work, and the first thing Salina knows, one of the largest industries in central Kansas will be in active operation here, with practical knowledge, and plenty of money at the head of it. Mr. Hinkle is secretary of the Phoenix Building society of Chicago, a company that is handling over $5,000,000 worth of Chicago real estate, and is a man in every way worthy the confidence of our people. Mr. Barney is well to do, also, but better than wealth, is his energy and willingness, coupled with his knowledge of the business in hand, to get right down to the de-tail management of it.

They have got their building site bought and paid for, the price being $1,250, and the Missouri Pacific have agreed to give them switches, and already had their engineers here to take the necessary measurements. It will take about 200,000 feet of lum-ber for the buildings, and by the tone of the following letter, they be-lieve in patronizing home institu-tions:

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 16, 1901.

A. M. CHAFFIN, Esq., Salina, Kansas. Dear Sir:—Enclosed please find lumber bill which you might let our lumber merchants figure on if they will; this will be about what we need now but they can figure from 25,000 to 50,000 more. Have them give prices of each kind. We in nearly everything bought now except boilers. Mr. Hinkle goes east next week to look at some new kind of boiler that does not scale or corrode, which will cost us our old bad water, but will cost us a double as much as ordinary boilers. See by the papers that it still rains in Kansas. J. A. Barney.

Joshua and His Gourd.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Gypsum Advocate, misunderstood us a week or so ago when, in copying the Advocate's account of H. H. Godfrey's growing corn, we com-mended thereon by saying they yet remained on earth people who dis-counted the theory in the Bible, of Jo-nah and his gourd. We meant those few words as a stab at unbelief, but instead J. Wayne thought we ques-tioned his veracity. Last week he gave us a still more remarkable corn story, and as he was never known to tell a lie when the truth is needed, we give it. "By applying se-veral plastering lath we managed to get the height of a stalk in a lot cul-tivated by D. E. Hill, formerly be-longing to the domain of John King-man, and now within the incorpo-rated limits of Gypsum City, and in sixty-three hours afterwards we measured it again and it had grown nine inches in that time. Fact. And it was not good corn weather either, being rather cool, and es-pecially at night; so cool that we needed a part of the time. Brother Kirtland, give us a chance on good straight corn weather."

That's a sample of what Salina county soil can do under unfavor-able circumstances. Now, we sub-mit, in all candor and honesty, had the gourd referred to above, grown in Kansas instead of Assyria, there would be nothing so remarkable about it as certain people imagine.

Institute Notes.

We are in the midst of the third week of institute work. Much inter-est is being manifested by those in attendance, and good work is being done by all. One hundred eighteen members now respond to roll call. R. A. Ekstrand, Louisa Dinkler, Lydia Easton, Alta Jefferys, George Perry, J. C. Healy, Ruth Mc-Carty, Mrs. Jennie C. Leek, J. A. Ward, Ruth Potter, Carl Anderson, L. J. Cokerly, Katie Peters, Mabel Martin, Addie Parsons, H. N. Rid-ing and Maud Mosher have added their names to the list of members during the past week. The visitors during the week were Revs. Bishop, Foulkes, and Chittenden, Profs. Cow-gill, Norman, Harne, and Leek; the Misses Bryson, Dooley and Deigan, and many others too numerous to mention. We wish to correct the error in last week's Jour-nal, that Miss Watson "teaches the model school." It should have been Miss Lizzie Wooster who has charge of the work in General Methods. Miss Watson is a faithful member of our institute and a teacher with an established reputation, but justice demands that the correction be made.

"The Kansas State Teachers Read-ing Circle" was the topic discussed on Monday and Tuesday, instead of regular subjects on school organiza-tion and management. Sup't. Hill-man presented the matter in a very appropriate manner. He said that "those teachers who read and studied professional works and attended teacher's institute were worth more than those who did not post them-selves." The books select to read the present year are "Pages' Theory and Practice of Teaching" and "Barnes' General History." The books are furnished at wholesale prices to members of the circle by the publishers. At least half a hun-dred names were secured for mem-bership, in this organization no fee is required. We will notice some of the work done during the past week. To-day, Prof. Wallace gave his class in Orthography the follow-ing list of words to be spelled orally, and analyzed with reference to the etymology of each word, viz: canine, dental, dentist, dentine, tri-dent, dentate, indent, cusp, hippocus, tricuspid, cuspid, manual, manip-ulate, manufacture, bimanous, manuscript, pedal, biped, quadrup-ed, imped, centipede, milliped, etc. There is great room for improve-ment in this study, on the part of the members of the institute.

Ocean currents were discussed in the geography class today.

Electricity was the topic in natural philosophy presented by Dr. Schuy-ler. Memory was discussed in the Didactic class by Dr. Schuyler. To many this the most interesting class in the institute. Dr. also has charge of the arithmetic classes. To-day's topics were Ratio, Propor-tion, Evolution and Reversion.

The class in school management discussed the topic: "What, ordi-narily, do teachers know, and what do they care, about children? What ought they to know? How ought they to regard children?" They ought to know the environments of the child, etc. They should know how the child's mind grows. The teacher ought to know what the child ought to know, etc. Visitors are urged to attend. It is impos-sible to give even an outline of a single day's work in all the branches. Come and see what work is being done, and how it is being done in this institute.

RUSTLER'S CORNER.

THE RUSTLER takes this method of informing the public that he now has on hand a very large assortment of Furniture, consisting of

BED ROOM SUITS,

Springs and Mattresses, Lounges, all kinds of Rock-ers and Chairs, Dining and Kitchen Tables, Bureaux, Center Tables and Window

Shades, Perforated Chair Seats, a large assortment of Cooking and Gasoline Stoves.

All of which he will sell at half price or will exchange for most any-thing you wish to sell. Furniture neatly repaired. Best place in Kansas to buy bed feathers. A good supply of all kinds of Cooking Utensils for Harvesting and Threshing Boarding Cars. Call and see me, 3d door east of the post office, Salina, Kas. Respectfully,

The RUSTLER.

NORMAL NOTES.

The closing exercises will occur on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evening, next week in Salina. The alumnal address on Tuesday evening will be delivered by Joseph Taggart, a graduate of the scientific course last year.

The members of the teachers' class will speak on Thursday evening, ex-cerises beginning promptly at 8 o'clock. Packard's orchestra fur-nishes the music.

Many former students are ex-pected here for commencement. Prof. Swisher will return from Sheridan county, on Saturday. He has conducted the institute there, and he goes to Minneapolis next week to work in the institute.

Prof. H. M. Gaines, of Chapman, is here on his way to Great Bend where he works in the institute. Prof. Gaines will have charge of the educational work here next year and be a regular teacher of the Nor-mal.

Prof. Struble is arranging to teach some classes in shorthand during August. Persons wishing such work should see him soon.
